

Adam L. Hughes
Candidate – Assistant Vice Chancellor for Information Technology, District Office

Educational Summary

Ph. D.
Computational Physical Chemistry
Indiana University, Bloomington, IN, 1999

B.A.
Chemistry and Mathematics
DePauw University, Greencastle, IN, 1994

Summary of Professional Experience

2019 – Present
Associate CIO, Director of Administrative Information Systems, Director of Network Infrastructure
DePauw University, Greencastle, IN

2011 – 2019
Director of Administrative Information Systems
DePauw University, Greencastle, IN

2010 – 2011
Principal Software Research Engineer
Indiana University, Bloomington, IN

2008 - 2010
Software Architect and Engineer
Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, IN

2006 - 2008
Application Developer Lead
Stericycle, Inc., Indianapolis, IN

2006 - 2008 (dates weren't given) said resume said telecommute part-time
Project Administrator and Computational Chemist
The Rothberg Institute for Childhood Diseases, Guildford, CT

2000 - 2006
Senior Systems Engineer
Chemical Abstracts Service, Columbus, OH

1998 - 2000
Director of Computational Chemistry
Ohio Supercomputer Center, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, OH